INCIDENCE OF NEW TARIFF ON HORTICULTURE

Member For Yale Objects To Lack Of Emergency Measures In Government Proposals

The following report of the speech of Mr. Grote Stirling, M.P. for Yale, during discussion of the budget proposals in the House of Commons, Ottawa, on Tuesday, May 13th, is taken from the official Hansard.

Mr. GROTE STIRLING (Yale): Mr. Speaker, there is a feature in regard to the proposals of the government concerning the schedules on fruits and vegetables in which they appear to be departing from the principles they have been supposed to follow all these years; apparently they have grasped at protection and gone crazy. In a great many instances it will be found that they are proposing further protection than that for which the fruit and vegetable growers have asked, and if the Liberal doctrine be true that of necessity an extra duty means a higher price to the consumer, then the consumer will have to pay more for his fruit and vegetables in the future. Certainly he must be careful not to put the blame for that increase on the producer; he must not say to the producer, "This is what you have been clamouring for all these years. We knew what would happen; the price has risen to us, and you are to blame."

I point out to you, Mr. Speaker, that an examination of these schedules will show that the proposals of the government in a considerable number of instances go further than the producer asked to have them go. For years past, in his divisional organizations, the fruit and vegetable grower has been discussing the amounts of duty to which, in his opinion, the specific rates should be raised in order to give him that protection he considers to be his due. These discussions have been carried on in his provincial organizations; they have been taken up by the national organization and presented to the Advisory Board on Tariff and Taxation ever since its inception, through the medium of the Canadian Horticultural Council.

The basis of the producer's plea always has been that we can produce the quality and we are convinced that we can produce a much greater quantity, displacing some of the importations of these commodities from other countries, if we are given reasonable facilities for so doing, but the producer always has had in the back of his mind the position occupied by the consumer. It has not been the wish of the producer to initiate such high rates of duty as for if the consumer is to be severely handicapped in this matter he will buy less and we shall have a smaller distribution. In the working out of the problems which confront us, both fruit and vegetable growers look for a greater and more perfect distribution through the markets of Canada than we have attained as yet.

In connection with certain highly perishable commodities such as peaches and strawberries, the proposition put forward by the producer has been that the specific tariff should be increased. That tariff should be applicable during the period of our production, but before and after certain dates which may be set by the Minister the tariff is no intimate concern of the producer. However, examination of the proposed schedules will indicate that in a great number of cases the producer has been given the amount of specific duty for which he asked not only during the whole year, and in addition he has been given something more for which he did not ask. In many cases the specific rate of duty has been raised to the amount asked for by the producer, although not in all cases; this is to be kept on the year round, so that when Canadian production has ceased and there are no Canadian fruits and vegetables on our markets which tend to stabilize prices, the tariff will increase, the price will rise and the enhanced price very probably will be passed on by the trade to the consumer. Over and above that, however, the producer has been given something further for which he did not ask. The present proposal of the government is that in addition to these specific duties there shall be an ad valorem duty which shall be alternative to the specific rate, and whichever is the highest shall be collected. The ad valorem rate on vegetables is 30 per cent; the rate on fruits is 25 per cent, and the duty which is higher, as between the ad valorem and the specific, will be collected. I think the way that would work out would be as follows: when Canadian production is moving on to the markets in full volume, the price would tend to be low and the specific duty would be higher; when Canadian production is lower, the price would tend to rise, and it would then come under the ad valorem duty. I am persuaded that the higher price will be passed on to the consumer. The revenue of Canada will benefit, but the consumer will pay more for his necessities and it is hard to understand how the grower will benefit thereby.

My main objection to the government's proposal is the fact that once more it has turned a deaf ear to the growers' request for something in the nature of an emergency tariff. Foreign countries with surplus production of certain fruits and vegetables endeavour to keep the production off their own markets because the price, there, would be broken. They look around for some unprotected spot to which they can send their perishable com-

MOSQUITO SPRAY PROVES EFFECTIVE

One Hundred Per Cent Control Secured In Waters Treated

The following satisfactory preliminary report has been received by the Executive of the Kelowna District Mosquito Control Association from Mr. H. A. Willis, who is again in charge of control operations this season: "Kelowna, May 17, 1930. "During my first survey in 1929 I found no larvae activity anywhere, but when putting on the first spray this year, which I completed on May 12th, I found larvae activity in all sections, the worst district being the nuisance grounds and surroundings.

"On May 14th I visited waters sprayed within one mile of town to check on the effect of the spray, and I found 100 per cent control where larvae had been showing. "I have had people tell me with a blaring look in their eyes that they have seen or caught the odd mosquito, so I would like to point out that 100 per cent control in this district is very nearly impossible, as water is everywhere during the four months of irrigation, and I have seen swarms of mosquitoes breeding in half an inch of water in a single hoof mark. In fact, the larger bodies of water are the least of our troubles, but if the Association is given the proper support, I am sure the mosquito as a pest will be a thing of the past."

MACDONALD MINISTRY FACES NEW CRISIS

LONDON, May 22.—The ministry of Premier Ramsay MacDonald faced itself today for what is hailed as a battle for existence. It is expected that at a meeting of the parliamentary Labour Party this evening the Premier will ask for a vote of confidence in the unemployment programme of the ministry. Failing to receive it, he will probably give notice of his intention to ask the King to dissolve Parliament, and will then take the question to the country.

The situation is the outgrowth of the resignation of Sir Oswald Mosley as Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, after Premier MacDonald and the ministry had failed to endorse the plans put forward by Mosley for handling unemployment.

modities, and in this particular instance Canada is next to such a neighbour. The surplus production of the United States is tipped into our markets at various times. When the glut is coming into the Canadian market the price is so low that the tariff rate is not the higher and the specific rate is insufficient. So far as I know, the grower has never asked that the specific rate shall be raised to such a height as would make the price such as to prohibit the foreigner marketing his products in Canada.

Two winters ago the producers of British Columbia sent a delegation through the western provinces in an endeavour to meet the opposition which they were prone to believe existed in that part of the country. That delegation met associations of farmers; it met representatives of labour; it met the press; it met the cooperative societies; it met responsible individuals, and it was careful to explain that its mission was not to discuss a general rise in the tariff, but that part of the case had already been submitted in detail to the Tariff Advisory Board—it was there to meet supposed opponents and make sure that the view of the producer was correctly explained. The members of the delegation returned home to British Columbia with renewed hope because of the kindly feelings which had been expressed towards their view. As I said before, the government has once more refrained from doing anything which will be of the slightest assistance to the producer in taking care of the glut in importations. At the present time nothing stands between the producers and these importations except what one might call the toy clause of the Liberal government. That clause was inserted in the Customs Act in 1922 and requires the passing of an order-in-council to make it operative, which order-in-council this government has never passed. An order-in-council was passed in 1926, which this government proceeded to use when they returned to power. Subsequent orders-in-council were passed which provided some effective protection, but when the fanatical free traders supporters of the government blew up all those orders-in-council were rescinded. We are now in the position in which we were before. It seems to me to be quite unreasonable that we should be expected to rely on that impotent clause of the Liberal government, precarious to them because it replaces one which they repealed and which had been put into effect by their predecessors. That previous clause took some cognizance of the costs of production. However, the Liberal government said: to consider the costs of production is unworkable, and they ignored the fact that that clause had been in operation with satisfactory results. The Liberal government has not in the past shown any desire to pass the necessary orders-in-council, and it seems to think that recantations at this late date will appeal to the fruit growers.

One of the reasons for repealing the orders-in-council in 1928, was a letter written by the Department of Justice. This letter stated as an opinion, but not as a ruling, that it was improper to use the dumping clause on duties carrying a specific tariff. A few days ago a despatch from Ottawa appeared on the front page of the Vancouver Daily Province which stated that, now that the government had imposed an ad valorem duty on fruit, it would be possible to carry a specific tariff.

KELOWNA WINS EIGHT CUPS AT TRACK MEET

Local Athletes Again Capture Senior Division Honours At School
Athletic Event

Jupiter Pluvius, rare and unwelcome visitor at events of this nature, held the centre of the stage when the ninth annual Inter-School Track Meet of the Okanagan Valley commenced at Polson Park, Vernon, on Saturday morning, and held his unaccustomed sway throughout the first ten events of the programme, but, much to the relief of the large crowd of Okanagan folk, he was finally routed by Old Sol, and the sun shone brightly for the remainder of the day, thus enabling the competitors to maintain the sunshine record for track meets as unassailed as possible.

Contestants and spectators alike took the unwelcome weather with a smile and proceeded to make the best of it, while the yell teams in the rosters sections worked all available lung power overtime by way of encouragement to athletes soaked with rain and spattered with mud. The attitude seemed to have its effect on the morale of the competitors, for no less than four new track records were established before the sky cleared.

The Kelowna High School won the Vernon Amateur Athletic Club for the second consecutive year, following an all day long struggle with Vernon for possession of the lead, which was established for Kelowna until the three final events. A total of 70 points against 67 for Vernon showed on the big board when the scorers had finished the check-up at the close of the meet. Pentiction High followed behind the Vernon team with 42 points, Armstrong secured 20, Summerland 16, Oyanas 8 and Rutland 1.

Vernon Takes Public School Championship

The Kelowna Cup, emblematic of the Public Schools championship, held by Kelowna last year, will occupy a well deserved place of honour in the Vernon Public School during the coming year, following a thrilling contest which developed between Vernon, Armstrong and Kelowna. Kelowna and Vernon battled on even terms for points throughout the major portion of the card, only to have Armstrong come from behind and threaten both leaders, passing Kelowna in the final point award, but failing to overtake Vernon, who at the finish of the meet had secured 47 points to 39 for Armstrong, with Kelowna two points behind the runners-up. Other scores were: Pentiction, 26; Kelowna Rurals, 25; Ashton Creek, 10; Summerland, 8; Coldstream, 6; Lavington, 0; Trinity Creek, 0.

Kelowna Rurals Make Fine Showing
Before passing to individual performances, special mention should be made of the new competing body, Kelowna Rurals, and their excellent performance as a team, while several members of the team gave the crowd of spectators some of the best work of the day.

Ashton Creek School has reason to be proud of V. Parkinson. The only entry from this school, he competed in two events, won them both handsily, secured 10 points for his school and incidentally annexed the Jacques Cup, which is awarded to the school of three divisions or under making the best showing at the meet.

Garbutt Makes New Record
Probably the most outstanding individual performance of the day was the double win by David Garbutt, of Kelowna High, who won both the half mile open, a new event, and the feature mile run, covering the latter in the record time of 4 mins., 44.4 secs., and setting a new B. C. High Schools record.

Alan Poole, of Kelowna, also turned in a double victory in the two century events, tying records of long standing in each case. Barbara Emslie, local High School runner, proved to be the speediest sprinter in the girls' events when she broke the tape well in the lead to win the new 100 yards race for High School girls. She also ran a valuable fourth lap in the girls' relay.

Speedy Little Marion Todd
Only one of a number of other worthy efforts by both High School and Public School athletes was the running of little Marion Todd, of South Kelowna, competing under the colours of the Kelowna Rurals. This diminutive little miss covers a lot of track in a remarkably short space of time and lowered the existing record for the 50 yards dash, girls under 10.

Grounds In Splendid Condition

A great deal of credit is due to those responsible for putting the grounds in the excellent condition in which the visiting teams found them. Lane markings, change markings, pits, take-offs, in fact the entire lay-out, showed great care and plainly indicated that a tremendous amount of work had been done by the corps of Vernon workers. Their efforts were rewarded by more than the praise of visiting teams and those in charge of them, for had not the track and infield been put into such good condition, the rain during the morning would have very seriously hampered proceedings.

Officials Worthy Of Praise

The officials in charge of the meet many of them principals and teachers of the competing schools, also deserve a full measure of praise for their work in handling the big programme of 27 events in which nearly 300 boys and

EARLY BY-ELECTION IN NORTH OKANAGAN

VANCOUVER, May 22.—Little time has been allowed for the by-election in North Okanagan to replace W. F. Kennedy, Conservative, who resigned his seat on Wednesday to take a place on the Liquor Control Board. Nominations are to be held on June 2nd and balloting on June 12th, it was announced at Victoria today.

ROAD MACHINERY BY-LAW HAS CLOSE CALL

Measure Receives Margin Of Only Six
Votes Over Necessary Three-
Fifths For Endorsement

Lack of interest nearly defeated By-Law No. 527, for the purpose of raising by way of debentures a sum of $9,000 for the purchase of roadmaking machinery, when submitted for the approval of the ratepayers on Monday. Those not actively opposed to the measure but lukewarm in its favour abstained from voting while the opposition mustered in force, with the result that the By-Law had a narrow escape from defeat.

The total vote polled was 182, of which one was spoiled, leaving 181 as the poll, of which the By-Law had to secure three-fifths, or 109. The result was:

For the By-Law 115
Against 66
Margin over three fifths (108.6), 6.

The result bears out the views expressed by Mayor Rattenbury and Ald. Gordon that money By-Laws should not be submitted at any time other than the annual municipal election, when there is always the reasonable chance of a large vote and hence a real expression of public opinion.

girls competed. Many persons rendered great assistance more or less unseen, particularly those engaged in rub-down work and who, as a result, missed seeing the greater part of a very interesting list of events.

Complete Results

Complete results follow, the names of first, second and third place winners being given in order:—

Low hurdles, 120 yards, boys under 17, High—H. Cochrane, Vernon; J. Wood, Pentiction; M. Meikle, Kelowna. Time, 16 1-5 sec. (new record). A close finish, first two runners evened up at fourth jump after the Vernon runner took an early lead.

Public—J. Smith, Armstrong; C. Thom, Pentiction; J. Kwong, Vernon. Time, 18 4-5 sec. The winner in this race was never headed but all runners were bunched in a garrison finish. Shot put, 12 lbs., boys under 21, High—J. Thorlakson, Vernon; H. Ryan, Kelowna; N. Bowsher, Oyanas. Distance, 36 ft., 1/2 ins.

50 yards dash, boys under 10, Public—B. Connarty, Armstrong; J. Gaythorpe, Vernon. Time, 8-secs. Broad jump, boys under 21, High—R. Guidi, Kelowna; W. Neil, Summerland; K. Bond, Rutland. Distance, 18 ft., 3/4 ins.

Basketball throw, girls under 16, Public—M. Hoggard, Vernon; P. Bond, Kelowna Rurals; G. Harding, Kelowna. Distance, 63 ft., 6 1/2 ins. High jump, girls under 16, High—R. Hansen, Pentiction; F. Renyard, Armstrong; M. Wakefield, Vernon. Height, 4 ft., 2 1/2 ins.

Skipping race, 50 yards, girls under 12, Public—M. Clarke, Vernon; P. Hope, Armstrong; D. Vernon, Pentiction, and M. Carton, Kelowna, tied for third place. M. Carton won the tie-breaker. Time, 2 3-5 sec. (new record).

20 yards, boys under 21, High—H. Cochrane, Vernon; W. Gartrell, Summerland; L. Maranda, Kelowna. Time, 24 1-5 sec. (new record). Hop, step and jump, girls under 21, High—H. Stephenson, Vernon; F. Dillworth, Kelowna; R. Hansen, Pentiction. Distance, 29 ft., 1/2 ins.

75 yards skipping, girls open, Public (new event)—J. Jennings, Kelowna; J. Maynard, Pentiction; M. Cochrane, Vernon. Time, 10 2-5 sec. Half mile, boys under 17, High—R. North, Armstrong; R. Hamilton, Vernon; F. Burr, Kelowna. Time, 2 mins., 16 1-5 sec. Burr, of Kelowna, ran a good race but his early lead destroyed his finish. North came from behind in a driving spurt.

50 yards skipping, girls under 14, Public (new event)—K. Smithers, Vernon; M. Casorso, Kelowna Rurals; J. Donaldson, Pentiction. Time, 7 2-5 sec. 20 yards, boys under 16, Public—V. Parkinson, Ashton Creek; F. Nicklen, Vernon; J. Browne, Kelowna. Time, 25 3-5 sec. (new record).

High jump, girls under 21, High—M. Meldrum, Pentiction; Kathleen Brown, Armstrong; M. Osborne-Smith, Vernon. Height, 4 ft., 7 3-10 ins. (new record). 50 yards dash, girls under 10, Public—M. Todd, Kelowna Rurals; J. Swinme, Pentiction; A. MacGinnis, Kelowna. Time, 7 2-5 sec. (new record).

50 yards, girls under 12, Public—M. Clarke, Vernon; M. Hamilton, Coldstream; M. Carton, Kelowna. Time, 7 secs. (ties record). High hurdles, 120 yards, boys under 21, High—Rudolph Guidi, Kelowna; B. Megaw, Vernon; J. Wood, Pentiction. Time, 17 1-5 sec. (new record).

One of the finest races of the meet, two leaders taking each hurdle together throughout the race. Guidi making remarkable finish drive. 30 yards, boys under 12, Public—C. Glass, Pentiction; G. Butler, Vernon. Time, 7 secs. (Continued on Page 8)

HUGE VALUE OF TOURIST TRAFFIC

British Columbia's Share Of Revenue
Through This Source Last Year
Estimated At $73,000,000

Mr. D. E. MacKenzie, President of the Automobile Club of British Columbia, New Westminster, who was to have addressed a dinner meeting of the local branch in the Royal Anne Hotel on Thursday evening, was recalled to the Coast before reaching the Okanagan, consequently the only speakers were Major A. E. Craddock, Provincial Manager of Vancouver, and Mr. R. M. Kurtz, of Seattle, who represents the Club's insurance interests. Mr. L. J. Wood, of Pentiction, Field Secretary, was also in attendance at the banquet and meeting.

Following dinner, Mr. W. Fraser, Chairman of the Kelowna branch of the Club, who was supported by Mr. H. G. Brewster, Secretary, introduced Major Craddock.

After expressing his pleasure at the opportunity to again address Kelowna members of the Auto Club, Major Craddock outlined the value to Canada of her tourist trade. In 1929, tourists brought into Canada some $300,000,000, of which British Columbia received $73,000,000. These figures, checked on both sides of the international boundary line, meant that 200,000 cars came into the country with some 750,000 spending passengers. It was estimated that 67 per cent stayed from 24 to 60 days, 28 per cent under 24 hours and 5 per cent under six months. Furthermore, about three-fifths of the tourist trade to British Columbia came by motor car. It was interesting to note, he said, that in 1929 British Columbia revenue from tourist traffic amounted to only $10,000,000.

In his address, the Provincial Manager stressed the importance of "boosting B. C." of every motorist "telling the world" of British Columbia. On a recent visit to Southern California, he was greatly impressed with the co-operative spirit pervading the Pacific Coast state. The besting done by citizens and public bodies had gone a long way to make California a mecca for tourists from all parts of the globe. What California had done, he declared, British Columbia could do. All that was needed was co-operation generally and loyalty among members of the Auto Club.

Major Craddock said that he had recently been a member of the Pacific Coast "crusade," when he travelled some 4,000 miles looking over the projected Alaskan-South American highway. On the trip, he made a number of speeches and at every opportunity broadcasted British Columbia's tourist attractions.

Concluding, the speaker announced that the convention of the Canadian Automobile Association would be held in Vancouver late in September. He hoped that arrangements could be completed in time to have the "caravan" of delegates from the east pass through the Okanagan on their arrival in B. C. or upon their return.

Introduced by Major Craddock, Mr. Kurtz gave a brief outline of the plan under which members of the Club are privileged to take up insurance. The policies the Club offered were not compulsory, he said, and no hard feeling would be entertained if all members did not take advantage of the plan adopted, which over two hundred automobile clubs on this continent had seen fit to use. The clubs for which the company carried insurance were practically "select" risks, consequently rates as high as 25 per cent, either in cash in the form of a dividend or to apply on the renewal of the policy, were invariably given to policy-holders.

At Kamloops, President MacKenzie addressed the Hub City branch prior to his return to the Coast. He dealt at some length with the benefits and advantages conferred by membership, stating that good roads, legislation, licence fees, gasoline tax, road signing and other matters came under the advisement of the Club, which had the confidence of the government at all times, regardless of which party was in power.

James, Vernon; J. Blewett, Summerland. Time, 2 mins., 4 1-5 sec. Garbutt ran a beautiful race, setting pace throughout and starting his sprint halfway through the last lap to finish strong. This race brought Kelowna High within 4 points of Vernon, who were leading at this time.

Broad jump, boys open, Public—E. Wyatt, Armstrong; G. Renals, Kelowna; N. Parkinson, Pentiction. Distance, 19 ft., 6 1/2 ins. (new record). High jump, girls under 21, High—M. Meldrum, Pentiction; Kathleen Brown, Armstrong; M. Osborne-Smith, Vernon. Height, 4 ft., 7 3-10 ins. (new record).

50 yards dash, girls under 10, Public—M. Todd, Kelowna Rurals; J. Swinme, Pentiction; A. MacGinnis, Kelowna. Time, 7 2-5 sec. (new record).

50 yards, girls under 12, Public—M. Clarke, Vernon; M. Hamilton, Coldstream; M. Carton, Kelowna. Time, 7 secs. (ties record).

High hurdles, 120 yards, boys under 21, High—Rudolph Guidi, Kelowna; B. Megaw, Vernon; J. Wood, Pentiction. Time, 17 1-5 sec. (new record). One of the finest races of the meet, two leaders taking each hurdle together throughout the race. Guidi making remarkable finish drive. 30 yards, boys under 12, Public—C. Glass, Pentiction; G. Butler, Vernon. Time, 7 secs. (Continued on Page 8)

INTERESTING PROGRAMME FOR EMPIRE DAY SPORTS

Outside Points To Be Well Represented In Athletic Events

Provided the Weather Man is in a good mood and smiles on the 24th of May, Kelowna's Empire Day celebration promises to be an outstanding success. A programme of interest and variety has been drawn up, which will include practically every organization working among the boys and girls of this city, and a feature of the meet will be the inter-city events. Entries have been received from Vernon for practically every event, and it is likely that Pentiction will send some of its best young athletes, while Princeton also intends to have representatives. Competitors are expected from other outlying centres, and following the Inter-School Track Meet on Saturday last, the runners are at the peak of condition so that it would not be surprising if some new records were established. The fact that Vernon is sending down its championship relay team has aroused great excitement among the local High School students, who are looking forward eagerly to an opportunity of avenging their defeat last Saturday.

The celebration will start promptly at 2 p.m. with a march past the grand stand and the flag-raising ceremony of the Sea Cadets, Girl Guides, C.G.T.E., C.S.E.T. and competing athletes. The Orchard City Band, under the direction of Bandmaster Kirk, has been practicing industriously for the event and will play during the afternoon. As a fitting end-up to the young people's day, the Boy Scouts are putting on a fine concert and gymnastic display in the evening.

There will be no morning programme. The celebration will start promptly at 2 p.m., and spectators are urged to be in their places on time. The programme has been arranged as follows:

Grand March and salutation to the flag, 75 yards dash, boys under 14; 75 yards dash, open to girls; 100 yards dash, open to boys under 16; Maypole Dance by Miss Wilson's group; three-legged race, boys under 14; sack race boys under 16; Indian club swinging by business girls; 100 yards dash, boys open; 220 yards dash, boys under 16; high jump, under 16; girls' relay, broad jump and discus throw, open; 440 yards dash; barbell display by the C.G.T.E. high jump, open; Irish jig, Junior High; 1 mile race; vaulting horse, Leaders; half mile relay, open.

All entries must be in the hands of Bert Fiddes not later than 10 a.m. on Saturday morning. No entries will be accepted on the grounds.

DANCING PUPILS SEEN IN PLEASING DISPLAY

Juveniles Give Evidence Of Careful
Training By Mr. A. C. Guild-

The second grand super display of dancing, deportment and physical culture to be given by the Kelowna pupils of Mr. A. C. Guild was staged in the Scout Hall on Friday evening last, a number of Winfield pupils assisting. Although the attendance was considerably smaller than on the first occasion, the programme was enjoyed by those who witnessed the juveniles give evidence of careful training in the social graces and play a most important part in rounding out the education of the men and women of tomorrow. Apart from the social advantages, the healthful physical exercises which go hand in hand with the terpsichorean art are of the greatest value in the development of the growing child.

The programme opened with the grand entrance of pupils, led by Leone Haldane, little 3-year-old pupil, and Master Hume, of Glenmore. The Galopade Contra Dance (vocal) and the Minuet, Canadian, marked the beginning of the evening's performance, followed by more than a score of old-time and modern dances, many of which, though obviously difficult for some of the very small children, nevertheless showed them to advantage.

Limited space does not permit of a detailed report, which had been prepared.

ALARM FOR SAFETY OF GIRL FLYER

BATAVIA, Java, May 22.—Uneasiness is felt here tonight for Amy Johnson, English girl, who is flying to Australia. Nothing has been heard from her since she passed Bima shortly before noon. She was headed for Atambora, on the island of Timor, but the wireless station at Keapang on the same island has received no word of her.

R-100 DUE IN CANADA AFTER JUNE 1st

OTTAWA, May 22.—The British dirigible R-100 will not arrive in Canada, on completion of her initial transatlantic flight, until after June 1st. She may be expected, however, any day after that date, weather conditions permitting, according to official advice received today by Hon. J. Ralston, Minister of National Defence.

GRAF ZEPELIN OFF COAST OF BRAZIL

FERNANDO DE NORONHA, Brazil, May 22.—The Graf Zeppelin, rapidly nearing the end of her South Atlantic flight from Seville, Spain, to Pernambuco, flew over the island of Fernando de Noronha, off the Brazilian coast today. After circling the penal colony for fifteen minutes, the big airship turned her nose towards the Brazilian coast, 125 miles away, and started on the final lap of her journey to Pernambuco.

FRUIT SHIPPERS ANNUAL GOLF COMPETITION

Visiting Coast And Eastern Players
Provide Stiff Opposition For Okanagan Men

The fourth annual Okanagan Valley Fruit Shippers' Golf Competition, played on the course of the Kelowna Golf Club on Monday and Tuesday, was possibly the most-interesting and successful since the inception of the annual event. A better class of play than formerly was evidenced on both days, and the participation of a number of Coast and eastern golfers provided stiff competition for the valley fruit men. Although a heavy rainfall on Tuesday morning was discouraging, the skies cleared in the afternoon and the events were concluded without undue delay. On Tuesday evening, the Royal Anne Hotel was the scene of the assembly of golfers, where an excellent dinner was enjoyed and the trophies were presented.

The competition was opened on Monday afternoon, when sixty-two entered in the qualifying round of 18 holes medal play for the open championship trophy donated by the Westminister Paper Company, of New Westminster, the lowest net to qualify. All entrants for the tournament were required to play in the qualifying round. Those who qualified for the final 18 holes were: Messrs. P. Stokes, Basil Stuart, A. Whyte, J. Lawler, Christopher Reid, Eric Johnston, R. Phelps, M. H. Lee, Dick Parkinson, Lorne Wood and A. P. Dunn, the two latter tying.

The trophy was awarded to M. P. Stokes of Salmon Arm, the player with the third lowest score—175 for thirty-six holes. While Mr. R. Phelps, of the American Can Company, Vancouver, and Mr. Allan Whyte, of Canadian National Railways, Vancouver, were the leaders in the competition, they could not accept the trophy as it cannot be taken out of the valley.

The Pacific Mills Limited (Vancouver) handicap trophy, 18 holes, medal play, was won by Mr. W. E. Adams, of Okanagan Packers, Ltd., Kelowna, with the low score of 72. Runners-up were Mr. Fortune, Enderby, and Mr. J. M. Robinson, of the Kelowna Growers' Exchange.

Special prizes for birdies in this event were awarded to Mr. A. P. Dunn, Vancouver, Messrs. Phelps and A. Whyte.

The trophy presented by the Canadian Bag Co., Ltd., Vancouver, for a "four ball, 18-hole, best ball, medal play" handicap competition, the handicap to consist of 3/4 of the difference of the combined handicap, was captured by Oppenheimer Bros., Vancouver, Mr. Fraser Wood, representative, by the score of 61. Okanagan Packers, Ltd., were runners-up.

The "Canoe" trophy handicap competition, in which a cup donated by the American Can Co. was fought for, was won by Mr. A. P. Dunn, who refused to accept it, consequently the trophy was awarded to the runner-up, Mr. J. Robinson. The cup was presented for the best net score in 36 holes of medal play in the Westminister Paper and Pacific Mills trophy events, each competitor being required to complete every round in those events to qualify. Mr. Dunn's score was 140, Mr. Robinson's 144.

The ladies' competition, 9 holes handicap-medal play, was open to all women employees of fruit houses and the wives and friends of competitors in the men's events. The event was won by Mrs. Montague, of Vernon, with the low net score for nine holes of 39.

A long driving competition, in which all tournament entrants were eligible to enter, was won by Mr. A. P. Dunn. Trophies were presented in the Royal Anne Hotel following dinner, when the donors themselves or their representatives made the presentations. Practically all of the second prizes and some of the firsts.

Smith, Davidson & Wright, Ltd., of Vancouver, Mr. E. M. Carruthers occupied the chair during the proceedings. Mr. E. M. Black, who addressed the gathering briefly, lamented the fact that, since the last tournament, four players who had participated in previous events had passed away.

Mr. George McKenzie led in community singing, and Miss Marie Chapin and the "Sympathy Dancers" who made a hit in "Keep 'Em Smiling" and on successive appearances, delighted the golfers, winning special commendation from the Coast visitors. Dancing was later enjoyed in the lounge.

In addition to about thirty Coast visitors, including C.N.R. and C.P.R. officials and manufacturers, participants in the tournament included Mr. J. D. Horton, Associated Growers' representative at Chicago; Mr. Fleet, of the McDonald Consolidated, Winnipeg; Mr. and Mrs. H. Bond, of Regina; Messrs. W. Lander and D. Rogers, of Wayburne, and Mr. J. W. Robinson, of Edmonton.

MASS PARADE OF CHILDREN ON SATURDAY

As a preliminary to the Empire Day celebration here it is planned to have a mass parade of all organised groups of boys and girls, who will march past the grand stand. This will include Scouts, Sea Cadets, and other bodies, and should give the citizens of Kelowna and visitors a fine picture of the work that is being done among the youth of this city and the valley.

1st Kelowna Troop

Troop First! Self Last!

Edited by "Scribe".

May 21st, 1930.
Orders for week ending May 20th, 1930:
Duties: Orderly Patrol for week, Otters; next for duty, Cougars.

Rallies: The Troop will rally at the Scout Hall on Thursday, the 22nd inst., at 7:15 p.m., for the full dress rehearsal. The rally for the Concert on Friday and Saturday, the 23rd and 24th insts., will commence at 7:45 p.m. sharp, this allowing half an hour before the opening of the Entertainment. The Troop will again rally on the afternoon of Saturday, the 24th inst., at 1:30 p.m., when they will parade with various other local organizations at the Big Track Meet and Display in the City Park. Full uniforms must be worn at all the above rallies and we look for 100% attendance, neatness and conduct. The Otters again headed the list at the rally on Monday last with 61 marks. The remainder are as follows: Cougars, 60; Wolves, 54; Cougars, 44; Beavers, 42; Eagles, 36. The Eagles lose 10 marks for failure of their P.L. to report for duty. With marks to date for the passing of badges, etc., the Patrol Standing is as follows: Wolves, 1,140; Otters, 932; Cougars, 881; Cougars, 275; Eagles, 230; Beavers, 144. Keen competition is being waged between the three top Patrols in the race for first place. At the present time there is very little difference between them. P.L. Howard Williams of the Otters has successfully passed another merit badge, the Cyclist, before Examiner B. W. Johnston.

We may say that final arrangements for our forthcoming Entertainment, which is to be held on Friday and Saturday of this week, have now been completed, and we hope to see a record-breaking attendance on both nights of the event.

sible to use the dumping clause in the future for the assistance of the apple grower. I cannot imagine the apple grower believing that this government would pass an order-in-council to help him in view of the way it has flouted him all these past years. When the glut of importation of apples is entering Canada, the price is low and the ad valorem duty is not the higher. The specific duty is insufficient, but it is not to apply because of the letter from the Department of Justice saying that it is impossible to impose the dumping clause in relation to articles carrying a specific tariff.

Mr. YOUNG (Weyburn): That is not what it said.

Mr. STIRLING: Does the government really think that the fruit and vegetable grower is such an arrant ass as to believe in these late protestations of assistance? The thought passing through the mind of the fruit and vegetable grower is quite different; it is similar to that couplet written many years ago:

"The devil was sick, the devil a monk would be,
The devil was well, the devil a monk was he."

These gluts to which I have been referring do not occur every year, nor in succeeding years do they occur in regard to the same fruit or vegetable, nor even in the same variety of any fruit or vegetable. Last year, so far as I am aware, there was no glut trouble with regard to apples, but there certainly was with regard to prunes. Let me read two or three short extracts from our own inspectors in some of the markets in Canada. This is from Edmonton:

"Very few British Columbia prunes have come into the city of Edmonton, although considerable quantities have been handled in country cars. The city and the adjacent towns were supplied with Washington prunes that were bought at 30 cents or 35 cents and were laid in here at from 4 cents to 10 cents per package less than British Columbia stuff could be. In the single week from September 9 to 14 there were 15 cars of the Washington prunes sold in Edmonton; and the total for the season must be over 30 cars. The British Columbia prunes moved in country cars partly because the rates direct to country points make the delivered cost lower than on American prunes reshipped from the warehouses here and partly because they were needed in the country cars to make weight and provide a reasonable assortment."

J. M. Cassels.
This is another one from Regina:
"The British Columbia Italian prunes were subject to the same competition as in the past years, namely the early importations of Washington prunes. The Washington prune deal this year started off at very low prices and the market declined to even lower levels before the deal was over. The same conditions existed in respect to Washington prunes that have been noted in past seasons. The fruit was packed very immature and on arrival at destination did not have the proper sugar content to give it a good flavour, or to make it desirable fruit for canning purposes that the Italian prune is when properly matured. The consumers purchased the Washington prunes in large quantities on account of the very cheap price. I did not at all intend to discourage the imported prune deal, stating that this would not be satisfactory on account of the fruit being immature, but cannot say that I had any measure of success.

J. W. Dilworth.
This is from Vancouver:
"We have not received a single car of prunes this season; up to date we have received around 20 cars of Yakima prunes which has killed the sale of plums. Some retail stores selling as low as 60 cents a box."

N. F. Peters.
So prunes were entering Canada from the United States at, say thirty-three cents for a twenty-two pound box. The duty that was being levied was nine cents. Nine added to thirty-three makes forty-two and prunes cannot be produced at forty-two cents a box. The present proposals would raise the duty by seven and a half cents. Seven and a half added to forty-two is forty-nine and a half. Prunes cannot be produced, packed and shipped at forty-nine and a half cents a box. In 1926, when the Minister had the right to set fair market values, the figure which he set was sixty-six cents a box, and I think the opinion of the producer, the trade and perhaps the consumer, would confirm the fact that sixty-six cents a box was by no means too high a figure.

What the grower has asked for has been a measure of assistance which shall be there on a shelf, ready for use when an emergency occurs, which will at least tend to raise that very low price to the figure which he considers is a fair market price in Canada. Prunes we grow in abundance. We certainly could grow a sufficiency to take care of the fresh prune requirements of Canada and we could go a long way towards producing sufficient prunes to take care of the dried prunes needed in Canada. Only the other day I received some dried prunes, processed by the Dominion government at Summerland. They were excellent; I have never eaten a better imported prune. What is the use of one department of government carrying on these experiments helpful to the fruit grower, if another department of the government by its inaction makes it well-nigh impossible for the fruit grower to continue to exist?

On apples the grower has not asked for any increased duty. He has asked for assistance in times of glut. The specific rate proposed by the government leaves that amount as it was before, namely, thirty cents a box, and merely clarifies the wording. Alternately, the ad valorem duty of 25 per cent on the value of the importation. When Canadian production is over or all but over, the price certainly tends to rise. The ad valorem duty will come into effect. It is extremely probable that the trade will pass the extra duty on to the consumer. The consumer will pay more for his apples and for the life of me I cannot see in that case just how the producer is going to benefit. In times of glut neither of these two methods of handling the duty on apples will be of assistance. In times of glut, apples may come into Canada at sixty cents a box and the ad valorem rate will then certainly not be the highest. The specific rate of thirty cents a box will be insufficient so far as the producer is concerned.

I cannot go through every item in these schedules, because that would be wearisome and the time would not be sufficient, but I desire to refer to one or two, taking them more or less at random. Let us look at the case of grapes. Production of grapes in the Niagara peninsula produced the winner. British Columbia is producing more and more grapes for table use and also for the supply of wineries. Of recent weeks, perhaps running into months, California has increasingly been importing into Canada crushed grapes, grape-juice, and more deadly from our point of view still, concentrated grape-juice. The grape grower considered that with that competition it would indeed be difficult for him to survive. He therefore came to the tariff board and put forward his proposals. He asked that crushed grapes might be included in the item "grapes," but he did not ask for any increased tariff on that item. He asked further that grape-juice might come under a tariff of twenty-five cents a gallon—and that the density of that juice might be subjected to the Boehm test. The government has not acceded to any of his requests.

Mr. DUNNING: Does my hon. friend say that the latter request was made before the tariff board?

Mr. STIRLING: That is my information. This concentrated grape-juice comes in at a four to one strength. A given gallon at an increased price, will, when water is added, produce four gallons of grape-juice.

Mr. DUNNING: Does my hon. friend say that this was developed before the tariff board?

Mr. STIRLING: That is my understanding. I am subject to correction. All that the government has done with regard to that tariff is that grapes are to be allowed to come in free in future under the British preference; the intermediate tariff has been reduced; the general tariff remains where it was, and the duty on crushed grapes and grape-juice has not been altered so that they will continue to come in under the old item. The Minister shakes his head. As I understand it, after giving the matter some thought, that is the situation.

Canada also produces peaches. Peaches are grown in Ontario and British Columbia. A good many go to the canneries. The peach grower, realizing that the old tariff of one cent a pound was quite insufficient for his purpose, considered the matter first in his district organizations, then in his national organization, and, coming with a united front before the Tariff Advisory Board, suggested that that one cent he raised to 1½ cents a pound. He suggested that figure because in his opinion it was the minimum amount of duty under which he could survive, and that 1½ cent a pound duty which he suggested was to apply during the ten weeks of his production. The proposal of the government is that the one cent a pound duty shall be raised to 1½ cents and that it shall apply all the year round, and that alternate to it there shall be a 25 per cent ad valorem duty; so that when Canadian production is dropping and there is no Canadian produce to temper the price, the price tends to rise, with the result that I have indicated previously.

In July of last year there entered Canada from the United States all but 1,500,000 pounds of peaches. Many of the peaches find their way to the canneries, and even there they find sorrow because the Canadian canneries are chock-a-block with canned peaches largely brought about by an immense increase in the importations of canned peaches from Australia. That is a fact which undoubtedly will be taken into consideration by the canners when they come to make up their figures both as to price and pack for the canned peaches of 1930.

Let me put on record the importations of canned peaches from Australia in the last few fiscal years. Canned peaches, which enter Canada under a tariff of half a cent a pound, came into this country in 1926 from Australia to the amount of 166 pounds, a mere nothing. In 1927, the importation was rather over half a million pounds; in 1928, a little over 200,000 pounds; in 1929, over 1,000,000 pounds, and in 1930, over 2,500,000 pounds. That amount of peaches entered Canada under a tariff of half a cent a pound under the Australian trade agreement—one instance which I remember we on this side of the house pointed out to the government in the debate in 1925 on the Australian trade agreement, when the government were so certain that the items contained in that treaty would not bear heavily on the farmer and when we pointed out to them, and we have been proved correct, that every benefit that Canada receives under the trade agreement is paid for by the Canadian agriculturist.

Onions maybe cited as yet another case. The old tariff on onions was 30 per cent ad valorem, or half a cent a pound with the price at $35 a ton. The grower came to the Tariff Board and asked for a specific rate of three-quarters of a cent a pound to apply during the period of his production and the subsequent period during which economic storage is feasible. The government has put forward the proposition of three-quarters of a cent a pound all the year round, and as an alternative 30 per cent ad valorem, and whichever is the higher will be collected. It is interesting to note that the United States tariff against our onions is 2 cents a pound, and now they propose to raise it to 2½ cents a pound. Our tariff against their onions, as I have just stated, is three-quarters of a cent a pound. The grower is being continually advised by officials in the department and by the government to do more in the way of storing his produce rather than rush it on to an un-ready market in its glut—to be in the position to feed the market as the market requires the goods. In the city of New Westminster recently there was built a cold storage plant, probably the last word in cold storage plants. It was largely assisted by a Dominion government grant and you may be sure Mr. Speaker, that in their relations with the producer the government has lost no opportunity of instancing this as one more evidence of its intense desire to do everything it can for the producer—not of course in their unregenerate days by doing anything with the tariff, but rather by cold storage. In December last the Associated Growers of British Columbia placed twenty-seven carloads of Okanagan onions in that cold storage building, onions excellent in quality, in prime condition to serve the spring market. They had incurred storage costs, which are by no means light. They had been held for the very reasonable figure of $40 a ton f.o.b. Around the first of April there was unloaded at the Coast 130 tons of New Zealand onions, which entered Canada free under that order-in-council which the government flipped across the ocean to New Zealand five days after the Woodstock speech, receiving nothing in exchange therefor. What is the good of advising us to store our onions if we are to be met by unfair competition, as we think it, even from the dominions? Following that 130 tons, at a later date came another 50 tons, and we have to market our onions, which have incurred cold storage costs, in competition with onions entering this country free. Australia has a tariff against our onions of $40 a ton. New Zealand's tariff is considerably less than that. But our doors are open, and the government now, with a magnificent gesture, opens the doors to onions from the British possessions, which in future may come in free.

In passing let us notice cauliflower and celery. Cauliflower is not a commodity which lends itself readily to storage. Celery can be stored, and is stored to a certain extent. The grower asked for a specific duty of 2 cents a pound on these two vegetables. That is the amount which he has been given. But he asked for it during the time of his production and during the time of economic storage. The duty is to be there all the year round, and it is to be subject to an alternate ad valorem duty of 30 per cent, and both these vegetables, so far as they can, may come in from British possessions free.

Lecture arrives in boxes. If it arrives in prime condition those boxes contain ice in between the layers of heads. The producer asked for a specific duty of 2 cents a pound for a certain period. He has been given it all the year round with an alternate 30 per cent ad valorem duty, but the producer never for a moment imagined that the ten or twenty pounds of ice contained in that box would also be subjected to 2 cents a pound duty. The Minister again shakes his head. My evidence is pretty strong on that point, and if the minister will examine it he will find that that is what has been happening since the second of May.

Mr. DUNNING: My advice is to the contrary, but if my hon. friend is correct I can assure him that that will have to be fixed.

Mr. BENNETT: Good. The fixing process has begun.

Mr. STIRLING: Now, will the Minister go one step further and fix the emergency tariff? There is another item with regard to strawberries. The grower asked that the rate on strawberries be raised from 2 cents to 3 cents a pound during the eight weeks of his production. The rate has been raised to 3 cents a pound; it is to be in effect all the year round with an alternative 25 per cent ad valorem. The grower fully expected that, as in the past, the thin baskets, the immediate container of the strawberries within the box, would be included in weight for duty. So they are. But he never imagined that the wooden box outside the baskets should also be subject to 3 cents a pound. Those boxes weigh 11 pounds. The trade having to pay 33 cents per box on strawberries for the pleasure of passing that rate on to the consumer, the consumer, when he realizes these little jokers in the budget, must in fairness to the producer not lay the blame on him.

Mr. CHAPLIN: This was to be an "orderly" tariff.

Some hon. MEMBERS: Order.

Mr. DUNNING: Perhaps some of the lumbermen over there will have something to say about it.

Mr. BENNETT: The lumber comes from the United States.

Mr. STIRLING: These illustrations I use to make my point that the government in its latter day has set aside its free trade principles, and in accepting protection has gone crazy. When these results are known and are resented, the consumer, the press and the public of Canada must not put the blame on the producer attempt to put the blame on him. When a bricklayer's labourer lays to his hand a trowel and starts to build a wall, he slobbers the mortar over himself, over the wall and over the passers-by. His job has not been to use a trowel, but to fetch and carry bricks. Sometimes he drops a brick, just as this government does. The Prime Minister dropped a brick when he made his "five-cent" speech.

Mr. MANION: It fit on his head.

Mr. STIRLING: He dropped another brick just two years ago when in addressing a tense and anxious collection of farmers who crowded into the Railway Committee room he based his argument in reply on what was an absolute misstatement of fact. Now, Mr. Speaker, I am not asserting that the right hon. gentleman rose to his feet with the deliberate intention to say what was not true. Rather do I believe that that gallowing tongue of his ran away with him. Although his attention was drawn to the fact in the subsequent debate which ensued in this house, so far as my knowledge goes he has not corrected it, he has not withdrawn it, he has not substantiated it, and I am quite sure he has not apologized for having made it. But he based his case on it. Those who listened to the Prime Minister's reply to the grievances which the farmers laid before the government were but the ears of a far greater multitude scattered throughout Canada, and that incident, I can assure this house, has neither been forgotten nor forgiven. Like the bricklayer's labourer, this government has in its latter end taken into its hand a new tool—a tool which in the past it has condemned.

UNIVERSITY CAST IN DELIGHTFUL PLAY
"Friend Hannah" Proves Artistic Blend
Of Comedy And Pathos

The work of the playwright Paul Kester is not known to Kelowna patrons of the drama as well as it deserves, and the audience that did not crowd to any unaccountable degree the accommodation of the Junior High School auditorium on Thursday night was given a revelation in the artistic delicacy of his "Friend Hannah," which cannot with truth be termed either comedy or tragedy, but is a clever blend of both. In selecting the play as their vehicle of expression upon their customary spring tour of the Interior, the Players' Club of the University of British Columbia showed excellent taste and discrimination, and their clever presentation of it was worthy of a larger attendance.

The story of "Friend Hannah" derives added interest from a flavour of historical tradition, being woven about the morganatic marriage of George III. to a Quakeress, Hannah Lightfoot, as to the authenticity of which historians still dispute, just about the time that he succeeded to the throne on the death of his grandfather, George II. Three acts of the play are cast in the year 1760, when George III. ascended the throne, and the fourth act forms a sequel fifty years later, when the King had become almost hopelessly insane.

Merry at the outset, the theme of necessity becomes tragic, when George is prevented by the pressure exerted upon Hannah by his mother, the Princess Dowager of Wales, and the Prime Minister, Lord Bute, from carrying out his intention of declaring her Queen of England, and, in a spirit of self-sacrifice and for the good of her country, she foregoes her happiness and the brilliant prospects that open before her and flees from her husband of a few happy weeks, to lose herself in obscurity until the dramatic transient meeting with the mad King fifty years later.

The role of Hannah is a difficult one, and it calls for acting of a high order of merit, but it finds a most worthy exponent in Miss Sheila Tisdall, whose interpretation of the part, natural and free of constraint, and rising to heights of dramatic expression in scenes of poignant emotion, does her infinite credit. She is easily the most outstanding member of the cast, without any disparagement to the capabilities of the other players.

Mr. John U. Coleman makes a fine figure as George, and his clear enunciation and easy dramatic action leave little to be desired. As the constant companions of the young Prince of Wales, Richard Lendrum (Edward, Duke of York) and Mr. D. Hamilton Brock (Duke of Chandos) give him worthy support and, clad in the gay silks of the period, the three put the drab costumes of the Quaker Lightfoots into total eclipse.

Most of the comedy is furnished by lively Betty Trotter, whom all will work, a part in which Miss Ann Ferguson won favour with her audience.

Although they appear only in the third act, Miss Betty Buckland and Mr. St. John Madeley give an excellent account of the parts of the Princess Dowager and Lord Bute, the astute Dowager succeeding in her design to separate George and Hannah by playing upon the feelings of the girl, whom the bullying tactics of Lord Bute had failed to daunt.

The other parts are filled with more or less merit by Miss Elizabeth Margee as Margaret Lightfoot, mother of Hannah, Mr. Alex. G. Smith as Thomas Lightfoot, uncle of Hannah, Mr. Sydney Risk as Isaac Axford, cousin of Hannah, and Mr. James A. Gibson, as Robert Clerg, a postboy.

The pathos of the final act made a strong appeal to the Kelowna audience and the curtain was lowered amid a storm of applause, with subsequent presentation of bouquets to the ladies.

Boy Scouts acted as ushers. Girl Guides sold candy and delightfully appropriate music was provided before the curtain rose and between acts by Mrs. Flinders' juvenile violin ensemble of boys and girls, who rendered the bar by Pleydel and a reverie by Tolhurst with pleasing harmony, and by Billie Shugg and John Claridge, who gave a piano duet by Beethoven, and Catherine Aikman, who played a violin selection in good style.

WINFIELD

Winfield was saddened by two tragedies last week, one of them local and the other in Washington but plunging a Winfield family into mourning.

The house on the Harvey place, occupied by Taro Koyama, caught fire on Thursday evening and burned to the ground. Mr. and Mrs. Koyama had gone to the residence of a neighbouring Japanese to pay a visit, leaving the three-months-old baby of E. Koyama asleep upstairs. When neighbours saw the blaze and reached the house, the lower part of it was full of smoke and flame and, not knowing that the baby was there, they did not try to get upstairs. When the fact was learned that the child was in the burning house, it was too late to save it.

Much sympathy is felt for E. Koyama, as he lost his wife just after the baby was born.

The other tragedy concerns Mrs. Swallow and her brother, Mr. George Simpson, through the death of Mrs. Simpson, who was motoring in Washington with relatives when the car upset, pinning Mrs. Simpson underneath. The car caught fire and she was burned to death. The others were all hurt more or less, and were unable to help.

The Ladies' Aid had a very pleasant afternoon on Thursday for their lawn social at the home of Mrs. John Edmonds. Tea and ice cream were sold, and there was also a table of home cooking. About $25 was cleared.

EAST KELOWNA

The Sale of Work arranged by the members of the Women's Institute and held in the Community Hall last Thursday afternoon, was a great success in every way. This is the first big effort of the Institute for funds for the Hall and all who worked feel well repaid with the results. The Hall was bright with flowers, and decorated with the colours of the Institute—green, white and gold, presented a charming picture.

The Home Cookery stall and refreshments were in charge of Mrs. A. Shaw, assisted by Mesdames Moodie, Woodd, Allen, McKay, Fairweather, Wilson and Fitzgerald. Their display of beautiful cakes and cookies of all descriptions was a feature of the sale, and set out in a most artistic way, made quite a picture. Refreshments were served by the younger fry, Misses Helene Goldsmith, Kathleen Smith, Laura Gregory, Betty Dendy, Annie Allan and Olivia Dickson. Opposite this stall was the Plain and Fancy, in charge of Mrs. Bean, Mrs. Powell and Mrs. J. Smith, and they had a splendid display of all kinds of useful and dainty things, arranged in a most attractive way. The Flower Stall, next door, made a lovely picture with its big show of blooms, iris, tulips and many other flowers and pot plants; Mrs. J. Patterson was in charge of this, assisted by her sister, Miss E. Anderson. The Candy Stall, in charge of Mrs. Curcie and daughter, Joan, was very pretty and the colour scheme with mauve made a charming effect. Ice cream and cordials were served by Mrs. J. Ferguson and Miss Hinks. The Jumble Stall, in charge of Mrs. R. Smith and Mrs. Evans, with its antiques and curios of all descriptions, hats and boots, ancient and modern, came in for fair attention. The romantic Bran Tub was set in quite a pretty corner of ferns with Mrs. Davidson forming an attractive background. Mrs. For, President of the Institute, in a quiet friendly way, did the honours, helped out by our Secretary, Mrs. A. Miller. Quite a substantial sum was realized. Many thanks are due to all who assisted in making our maiden effort such a success.

Congratulations to Ronald Evans, who was quick enough to win the 75 yards handicap at the Track Meet in Vernon, last Saturday, for lads under 16, and also for the Broad Jump in which he managed 14 feet 8 inches, the winner getting 15 feet, 2 inches. Our athletes should be encouraged in the community, for they only need training to enable them to hold their own with any district.

The usual monthly Baby Clinic was held in the Community Hall on Tuesday afternoon, under the auspices of the Women's Institute, with Mesdames Curcie, Paterson and Strang assisting Dr. Ootmar and Nurse Grindon. There was an attendance of nineteen babies which is very encouraging to those who are so keen on helping the young mothers. There was music on the air, while these vocalists got busy, but everybody was busy and happy in well doing. We must not omit Mrs. A. Miller as a helper. Afternoon tea was served and was appreciated by all.

PRIZES STIMULATE ANGLERS TO ACTION

A 14½ Pound Trout Leads The Race For Honours So Far This Week

Prizes for the largest individual fish and for the nicest catches made each week are now being awarded to anglers by J. B. Spurrier. The spirit of competition added to the day's outing equals stimulated interest in what is on the other end of the line every time it is pulled in. Charlie Kirkby and Jack Lane, leaving their comfortable bunks at the unheard of hour of 6 a.m. on Sunday, rowed all over this section of the Okanagan Lake until the blisters stood out on their hands. They caught only four trout—but hear the rest of the story! Something hooked on to Charlie's line and, just as he was ready to waver with Jack—that it was a much smaller than Osopogo, he sunk his gaff into a 14½ pound beauty—the largest taken out of the lake this week to date. The big fish was on display at Spurrier's early in the week. It got sporty with Charlie's hook, line and sinker near Bear Creek.

A number of sportsmen trolled the big pond early on Sunday morning and few were successful. C. H. McEwan, of Vancouver, caught six near the Aquatic Pavilion, the largest of which tipped the scales at six pounds.

Summit lakes are favourable. Axel Sandberg, who was in town on Tuesday, reported the fishing excellent at Cariboo Lake, near McCulloch. According to Axel, you'll get your limit there any day, fishing off the rocks anywhere.

Jack Cummings and H. V. Acland had good luck at Penanant over the week-end, while Jack Gripman captured a nice lot of trout at Chute Lake, the largest weighing five pounds. Fishing at Chute, however, is spasmodic. When the weather is warm, the trout will bite; when it is cold, they are unresponsive.

Fishermen's luck.

REAL ESTATE SHOWS RENEWED ACTIVITY

Considerable Demand For Small Modern Bungalows

Activity in Kelowna city and suburban real estate has improved considerably since weather conditions have taken a favourable turn and prospects of good crops generally seem to be assured. Lately, a number of homes, small farms and building sites have been sold to local purchasers and newcomers, indicating business progress in the Orchard City and district and better conditions financially than appear on the surface.

Among the recent sales transacted by Goddard's Auction and Realty Company is the W. Follard fruit and mixed farm at Rutland, sold to Mr. K. J. P. Landin, of Alberta. Options on homes and orchards have also been given by that company, which reports that small modern bungalows, several of which have been sold recently, are constantly being offered.

It is anticipated that there will be an influx of visitors from outside points, and the co-operation of citizens in this regard will lend colour to the day.

Radio Station 10AY was on the air Tuesday night, when a concert by the Kelowna Ladies' Choir, under the direction of Mr. Donald Macrae, was broadcasted by remote control from the United Church. Several choral numbers were well rendered, as were selections on the pipe organ by Mr. Macrae.

Plain Duchess, No. 33,071, a registered Jersey cow belonging to Mr. H. C. Mallan, Okanagan Mission, three years and 257 days of age has achieved a record of production of 11,199 lbs. of milk and 578 lbs. fat in 365 days. This creditable performance has elicited congratulations from Mr. P. Fleming, Western Fieldman for the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club.

Inquiry into the death on Wednesday evening, May 14th, of William Spencer, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer, Sutherland Avenue, held in the Court Room, Casorso Block, on Friday, resulted in a verdict of accidental death by drowning when he fell off the ferry docks at Westbank. The funeral service was held on Saturday at 2 p.m. from the Bethel Baptist Church to the Kelowna Cemetery.

When an outbuilding at the rear of the house occupied by Mrs. S. Gray, Pendosa Street, caught fire on Wednesday afternoon, the blaze spreading rapidly to the corner of the residence, the Fire Brigade were summoned. The outbuilding, a small structure, was destroyed, but, owing to the quick response to the alarm of the Brigade, practically no damage was done to the house, which is situated on Dr. Knox's property.

Mr. R. G. Rutherford, C.A., left on Monday by car for Vancouver, where he will assist in the head office of the firm, Crehan, Mouat & Co., chartered accountants, during the absence of Mrs. M. J. Crehan on vacation in the Old Country. He will probably be away from Kelowna until the fall, and will be joined at the Coast by Mrs. Rutherford. During his absence, the Kelowna office of the firm is in charge of Mr. K. H. Mundell, C.A.

Miss Dorothy Redferne left on Saturday for Kinzua, Oregon, to visit her mother prior to her marriage at Toronto in July to Mr. Eugen M. Jellett, of Montreal. Miss Redferne, who had been in the employ of the Interior Committee of Direction as head stenographer since its formation in 1927, and who made a host of friends during her sojourn in Kelowna, will be greatly missed. No permanent appointment has been made to the vacancy occasioned on the staff of the committee of Direction by her departure.

Citizens with cars, able and willing to do so, are asked to assist in the transportation of families, particularly women and children from the outlying sections of the city, to Athletic Park on Saturday, when the track meet and gymnastic display will be held. It is a long walk for many parents, especially when accompanied by children, and this service will be greatly appreciated. Any one in a position to place his car at the disposal of the committee for about a half hour after the meet has been concluded, should communicate with Mr. A. J. Hughes. A lift to the grounds, given to the less fortunate, will constitute a real service.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. B. Lowery, who, until two years ago, made their home in Kelowna, will be pleased to hear of the success of their son and daughter, Wilfrid and Gwen, at the recent Kootenay Musical Festival, held at Nelson. Gwen won the gold medal for sight playing, in which class there were five entries, the test piece chosen by Mrs. Huntly Green being a difficult composition by John Ireland. She also won second place in the open pianoforte class, in which there were nine entries. The test piece was Polichinelle, by Rachmaninoff. Wilfrid won first place and a silver medal in the piano, under fourteen years, against thirteen other competitors. While in Kelowna, both were pupils of Mr. Donald Macrae.

MARRIAGE

Pridham—Burch

("Vancouver Province")
 A pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening (May 14th) at Canadian Memorial Church, Rev. G. O. Falls officiating, when Miss Baye Burch, Kelowna, became the bride of Mr. Fortescue Pridham, also of Kelowna, the church being beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Frank Hayward, the bride was charmingly attired in an imported gown of rosin-egg blue, with beige yoke, her hat an original model of Baket. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and lily of the valley. Miss Dorothy Etherington attended her as bridesmaid, and wore a gown of beige georgette and lace with hat to match. Her bouquet was rose sandragon and mauve hydrangea. The groom was supported by Mr. Alex. Seon, of Kelowna, Mr. A. G. Carruthers and Mr. Fraser Wright acted as ushers.

At the reception which followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayward, the bride couple were assisted in receiving by Mrs. H. B. Burch, of Kelowna, mother of the bride. The rooms were prettily decorated with pink tulips and other spring flowers, while the table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake surrounded by pink tulle and tall pink tapers. Presiding at the urns were Mrs. J. Stinson and Mrs. Harold Cribb. Mrs. P. Charriot cut the ices, while the servants were Miss Margaret Burch, of Victoria, sister of the bride, Miss Jean Wright and Miss Gladys Stinson.

Later the couple left by motor for Vancouver Island, the bride travelling in a tailored suit of sand whipeord, with hat and shoes to match, and wearing a red fox fur. After the honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Pridham will live in Kelowna.

Searles-Jones—McLean

St. Andrew's United Church, North Vancouver, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Friday, May 16th, when Rev. J. C. Switzer united in marriage Miss Mary Victoria McLean, daughter of Mr. John McLean and the late Mrs. McLean, and Mr. Clare A. Searles-Jones, only son of Hon. J. W. Jones and Mrs. Jones, of Kelowna. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with palms and tall baskets of spring flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a gown of rose beige lace, featuring the ankle length, with mohair picture hat and slippers to match. She carried an arm bouquet of many sweet peas, Ophelia roses and lily-of-the-valley. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Alfred Schreves, in a gown of poudre blue crepe-de-chine, with picture-hat of same tone, as matron of honour. Mr. Alec McLean, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride, where only the immediate relatives were present. Large baskets of spring blooms decorated the rooms. The bride's table, centred with a three-tier wedding cake, was arranged on the corners with rose-buds, lily-of-the-valley and forget-me-not. Rev. J. C. Switzer proposed the health of the bride, to which the groom most fittingly responded.

The couple left later by motor on a trip to the Okanagan Valley, the bride donning a frock in mauve, with a smart tweed coat, her shoes and hat of matching tone. A silver fox fur, the gift of the groom, completed her ensemble. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Searles-Jones will take up residence in Vancouver.

A former resident who has been away from Kelowna for many years, returned on Thursday last in the person of Mr. Joseph Barnes. Following his return to England in pre-war days, Mr. Barnes was engaged in business in Newcastle until recently. While he has not reached any definite decision, he may locate permanently in the Okanagan, which he confesses has always possessed a strong attraction for him. His estimated and delightful was in great advance evident in Kelowna and the surrounding district, and finds some difficulty in picking out old friends amidst the great number of new faces.

Following the fire on Tuesday morning of last week, when Mr. A. E. Hill's residence was burned to the ground, it was rumoured that, because Mr. F. T. Powick, Bay Avenue, the first to observe the blaze, could not get the telephone operator on his telephone, she was "asleep at the switch." This is absolutely without foundation. Due to the fact that Mr. Powick's telephone was on a party line with that of Mr. Hill, the fire cut off connections and made his instrument useless. No reflections should be cast upon the telephone company, the service of whose operators, particularly in time of fire, has always been of the greatest value.

Miss S. Woodworth, Domestic Economy teacher in the Kelowna schools, gave a talk on the subject of home economics under the auspices of the Kelowna Parent-Teacher Association in the Junior High School Auditorium Tuesday evening, when her instructive address was much enjoyed by members of the Association and others present. The address was preceded by an entertainment by a few of the winners at the recent Musical Festival, recitations, pianoforte solos and songs being well received by their hearers. With Mrs. Arbuckle in the chair, supported by Mr. F. A. Martin, Secretary, a short business meeting was held, when cases of relief dealt with by the Association were discussed. Milk, etc., has been sent to several needy families, and it is felt that if the membership of the Association can be increased, they will be enabled to carry on with the good work. Membership tickets are obtainable from the Secretary or from Mrs. H. J. Moore, phone 318-L1. It is hoped that a course in home economics for adults may be arranged in September.

GIRL GUIDE NOTES

2nd Kelowna Company
"Ever Ready"

The Company will rally at the Scout Hall on Tuesday evening, May 27th, at 7.15. Let us have 100% attendance. We very much appreciate the effort made by three Guides to keep up their patrol standing by coming for Roll Call last Tuesday, even though they had to leave early to assist elsewhere. We very much regret that some felt that their pleasure came before their patrol and did not even take the trouble to call their P.L. to let her know they would not be present. We wonder if the enjoyment of the evening would not have been increased if they had done their bit for their patrol and then gone on to the party afterwards.

We had much pleasure in presenting the Sick Nurse badge to those who successfully passed their examination in that subject, Nancy Steele, Margaret Aitken, Mary Royle, Barbara Adams and Mary Barton. Miss Tisdall's class in the same subject will write on their examination, set by Mrs. Wilnot, on Wednesday, May 28th, at 4 p.m., in Miss Tisdall's office.

There will be a final rehearsal of our drill for the Scout Entertainment on Thursday evening, May 22nd, in the Scout Hall, at 7.30.

The Company will parade at the Athletic Meet held in the Park on May 24th. Please rally at the second gate of the Park in full uniform at 1.30. Plenty of time will be allowed to change into any other costume required for the programme. Your uniform will be your pass into the grounds.

The Company will rally for Church Parade on Sunday, May 25th, at 10.45, at the Scout Hall, and from there will march to the United Church for service.

GLENMORE

Municipal Council

The May Council meeting was the longest for some time, lasting from 7.30 p.m. until after midnight on Tuesday, May 13th.

The Divisional Engineer of the C.N.R. from Kamloops attended the meeting in company with Mr. Hughes, the Kelowna agent, to discuss the fill required at the approaches to the bridge. The Council had been in communication with the railway regarding that work should be rushed in the interests of safety. The Engineer, Mr. L. S. Daynes, claimed the railway was not called upon legally to make the improvement to the bridge, but that they had done it on the understanding that the Municipality would do the filling. Finally an agreement was arrived at whereby the Municipality will do the filling and the railway pay half the cost, up to $75.

Sealed tenders for grading Knox Mountain Road were opened and the job was awarded to Mr. J. M. Vint, who tendered 20c per cubic yard for cutting and filling according to specifications, which worked out just a little over half the next lowest tender. Five tenders were received.

Amended estimates having been received from the School Board reducing their 1930 estimates in an effort to assist in holding down the mill rate, the budget was next taken up and adopted. The items follow fairly closely on previous budgets, except that the School Board estimates are still higher because of tuition fees payable for High School students under 16 years of age. Two by-laws were then reconsidered and finally passed, the bank loan by-law and the tax rate by-law, the latter fixing the rate at the same figure as last year, viz., 10 mills.

A by-law to validate an agreement with the City of Kelowna for the purchase of a supply of domestic water for a period of twenty-five years was read three times, as also was a by-law to

"Mr. Scott made his first trip of the season with his automobile stage on Saturday, and will maintain the service until fall rains force him to take to horse traction again."

"In answer to an advertisement inserted in the 'Halifax Herald' and the 'Toronto Globe,' the School Trustees have received 45 applications for positions on the teaching staff. The majority of the applicants are university graduates and possess B.C. certificates."

"Halley's comet is proving a rank disappointment to those who have been stealing the early hours of the morning from slumber to gaze upon this much-heralded wonder of the skies. We have not yet discovered any one who can conscientiously go into raptures over the 'magnificent spectacle.'"

"The new siren on the Power House was put into action on Tuesday evening to sound the alarm for fire practice, and made most unearthly noises, running a scale of its own. It should be very effective as a fire signal."

"The Central Okanagan Lands, Ltd., sold $11,000 worth of land in 'Glenmore' (Dry Valley) that was last week to Vancouver purchasers."

In an advertisement in this issue The Central Okanagan Lands, Ltd., announced that from several hundred names suggested to replace the undesirable title of Dry Valley the following were chosen as the favorites: Glenmore, Gleneden, Homelands and Fruit-area. A vote of the judges was taken which resulted in a tie on the names Glenmore and Gleneden, and on a further vote being taken, Glenmore was declared the winner. Three persons sent in the name finally chosen, Mrs. R. A. Walker, Mrs. John Morrison and Mr. C. Martin, among whom the prize of $100 was equally divided.

abolish the classification known as "wild land." Improvements to the Beach Park were planned and May 26th was set for a "bee," when Glenmore men will be expected to go and help with the construction of buildings and fences, etc.

A decision was arrived at to oil more of the main road this year and steps were taken to procure 2,000 gallons of road oil.

Mrs. C. E. Ritchie, of Langford, Vancouver Island, is visiting Mrs. R. W. Andrews. She expects to spend the greater part of the summer here.

Miss Hicks, who has spent the past year with her brother, Mr. W. H. Hicks, leaves today for Toronto over the C.N.R., where she will visit prior to returning to her home in Ireland.

Young Hornets met Glenmore on Tuesday, the game resulting in a win for the former, 15-10.

THOROUGHLY DEPENDABLE
—as a good friend should be

It is easy to understand why Oldsmobile owners speak of their cars as they would speak of a good friend. For these men and women have found in Oldsmobile the first requisite of genuine friendship. They have found character that carries with it an unflinching capacity to serve long and well.

To these owners, Oldsmobile has proved itself always dependable... always alert, faithful, and eager to go.

They know from long experience that Oldsmobile is trustworthy—that Oldsmobile's design is fundamentally right.

They know that the car has been thoroughly tested in the General Motors Proving Ground. Most important of all, they know that Oldsmobile is pledged to fine car standards and built to do all things well.

The Oldsmobile Six is a thoroughbred. It will prove itself to you, as it is proving itself to thousands of owners throughout Canada—thoroughly dependable, as a good friend should be.

Oldsmobile ownership is simplified by the G.M.A.C., General Motors' own plan of deferred payments.

WESTBANK

The W. A. of St. George's church met at the home of Mrs. Washington Brown on Thursday afternoon. There was a good attendance and the time was spent in crocheting and packing up the Dorcas work done by the members. Mrs. Brown and Jean served a dainty tea.

The good wishes of the community go out to Mr. Max J. dePlyffer, manager of the local Co-operative Association, who was married to Miss Alice Palmer at Kelowna last Wednesday. After the honeymoon, which is being spent in California, Mr. and Mrs. Max dePlyffer will live in the beautiful home which Max has built behind the Church.

Miss Olive Ings, V.O.N., arranged a Dental Clinic which was held at the Schoolhouse on Friday. Drs. Shepherd and Wright were the dentists who attended and all the children's teeth were thoroughly examined. A good need at Westbank is a visiting dentist as a child's teeth are often neglected for want of time or convenience, to go to town to have them seen to.

OKANAGAN MISSION

There will be no Sunday School next Sunday.

The results of the Rural School Track Meet were published in the Courier last week but, as they were not available for Mission Notes in time for insertion there, our private congratulations must be a little late. The successful competitors from our school were:

Joyce Ford: First in skipping for girls under 14; second among the girls under 16; second in 75 yards race for girls under 16.

Percy Jones: First in the 50 yards race for boys under 12.

Tony Agar: First in the high jump for boys under 12. He jumped 3 ft. 10 ins., and later established a record with 3 ft. 11 inches.

Ronnie McLymont: Second in the 25 yards race for boys under 8.

Daphne Bell: Second in the 25 yards race for girls under 7. In the relay races for girls under 14 and under 16 the Okanagan Mission team took third place.

Among the various rural schools the Mission came third with 42 points.

Your correspondent has been asked to explain that the rural schools in the vicinity of Kelowna, numbering 21 class-rooms, have now united to form a unit versus the town schools. Their candidates hold a preliminary track meet, making Rutland their centre, because they have such a good track in their school grounds, and from among these the best are selected to go to Vernon. Percy Jones and Joyce Ford were selected from our school, but unfortunately Joyce was unable to go. Percy, accordingly, had the proud position of sole representative, and succeeded in getting third place in the under 12 race. Mr. W. D. Walker went by request to act as one of the officials.

A novel competition has been proposed for members of the Women's Institute. The suggestion originally came from Miss Gray, who had seen the idea carried out in England. Mrs. Jas. Luckett (to whom Miss Gray wrote) wishes to inform all members of the Institute that she will give to anyone who cares to apply to her four seed potatoes (the seed is something specially good). The competitor plants the seed in a special plot, and on a certain date digs the potatoes, and exhibits them at the Home Produce and Cooking Stall at the Institute exhibition in September. A prize is offered by Mrs. Murdoch for the best crop of potatoes grown from this seed, and the potatoes themselves go to the Kelowna General Hospital.

On Friday evening Messrs. Brown, of Kelowna, McKenzie, of Vancouver, and Scott, of Calgary, addressed a meeting in the School on the subject of "Oil." Owing to short notice, there was only a small number present. Mr. McKenzie spoke at some length, explaining what had been done elsewhere in the Kelowna district in the matter of pooling land owners' interests for the purpose of granting oil leases, and suggesting the formation of a pool covering some five or six thousand acres for the Mission district, the idea of the pool being that his syndicate would not incur the expense of exploration work unless they first had options of lease over the major portion of the district likely to benefit.

The report of Mr. Rickert, the geologist, claims that we have evidence of a valuable oil structure underlying Okanagan Mission and part of the lake, extending for 6 or 7 miles approximately from Cedar Creek to Mr. Harry Hill's ranch and eastward. The possibilities are artesian water, natural gas and oil.

Mr. McKenzie said the drilling operations would start about August 1st. Three wells were to be dug: the first in 7 or 8 months; the other two would perhaps take up to 3 years. He also spoke of spending $175,000 in drilling operations here.

Mr. Collett was appointed to meet Mr. Scott to discuss further details. It is understood that another visit from

The special school meeting held in the School on Wednesday last was not well attended, only nine ratepayers being in attendance in addition to two Trustees, Messrs. Schell and LePargneux. This lack of interest is regrettable in view of the fact that the matter under consideration was important, namely, extension of the present school by addition of two class rooms or the alternative of erecting a separate small school of two rooms.

After hearing the pros and cons of the two propositions, the meeting unanimously voted for the latter, and in consequence a two-room wooden school will be built on the rear of that part of the school property on which the teacher's residence stands. This was the more economical of the two proposals. The cost will be $7,500 and will be spread over a period of five years. This will increase the tax rate to 14 mills instead of 11 as at present.

The building will be of stucco finish and in event of the school population decreasing so that the building was not needed for classrooms, it could be turned into a gymnasium at small cost. It is regrettable that so few ratepayers were in attendance. It would seem that only matters involving sectional antagonisms, prejudices and personal matters can draw a crowd; real school business is not of sufficient interest!

The Rutland baseball team met a disastrous defeat at the hands of the Young Hornets in Kelowna on Friday last. The score, 11 runs to 1, is a very good indication of the game. The Hornets hit hard and often and the Rutland team played a ragged game in the field.

Rev. A. MacMillan has been attending the conference of the United Church at Vancouver, returning Tuesday. Services on Sunday were taken by Rev. C. A. Campbell.

We are glad to learn that Mr. W. Parsons, who underwent an operation at the Kelowna Hospital recently, was sufficiently recovered to be able to return home on Sunday last. He hopes to be able to be up and around shortly.

In the Central Okanagan Valley league game played here Tuesday evening, Rutland defeated Oyama by five runs to two. Oyama lost the game through errors while Rutland played air-tight baseball. The batteries were Pattullo and Crawford for Oyama, Bach and Kitch for Rutland. The score by inning was as follows: Oyama, 0 0 0 1 0 1—2; Rutland, 2 0 0 0 2 1 x—5.

There was a good attendance at the Women's Institute Meeting, Wednesday last, when Mrs. J. Dobbin of Westbank, gave an interesting address on "Arts." Refreshments were served by Mesdames W. G. Quigley, J. Smith and J. White.

these gentlemen and others interested will take place shortly.

The following were guests at the Eldorado Arms during the week: Mrs. A. H. Panet and son, Victoria; Major and Mrs. Englede, Victoria; J. R. Pyper, J. N. Sjoquist, E. Gillespie, Wm. Smith, all of Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. Farmer, Victoria; R. Long and J. R. Sloan, Vancouver; P. S. Laws, Nigeria; G. Butler, Vernon.

On Wednesday, May 21st, afternoon tea was served for a party of thirty school teachers.

At the Sale of Work held by the Parish Guild on Thursday last, the sum of $54.00 was realized. After paying expenses, about $30.00 will be handed over to the Guild Fund. The sale was a great success in every way. An embroidered cushion and cretonne covered box were raffled, the first being won by Mrs. J. Luckett and the second by Miss Mallett. Many thanks are due to Mr. and Mrs. Farris for lending their beautifully shady lawn for the purpose.

ed as useless, pernicious, provocative, a tool that it is unaccustomed to use, and the first piece of work that it has turned out with it is this amateur budget, this piebald suggestion. Throughout Canada during the campaign and on election day the people will be turning over a thought in their minds "Can we trust this government?"

Mr. MANION: No.
Mr. STIRLING: So far as the fruit and vegetable grower is concerned, he has already answered that question. "No, I cannot." For years past the government and their supporters have been vaunting their principles and deciding out; they have been misconstruing our words and taunting us and disbelieving what we said in relation to this matter; they have put forward their own principle as something which is just and upright and on which a great Canada can be built; they have derided ours as a snare and a delusion. Now, when their tide is ebbing, when power is slipping from them, they have grasped at this chusive protection, they have attempted to, make use of it, and they have produced a fiscal jumble which will yet be their undoing; and if they blow up in this house without passing the budget, they will go into the campaign with the horrid thing tied to their tail; but if, with their disconnected majority, they put it through, they will

Hornets Win Two Games And Tie Rutland For League Leadership
Playing against Rutland at Athletic Park on Friday night, the Young Hornets batted so freely that they rolled up a score of 11 to one lone run for the rural nine. On Tuesday night, they again indulged in a wallowing bee in company with Glenmore, but the game was not so one-sided, the final tally being 15 for the Hornets as against 10 for Glenmore.

Annual Club Tournament Begins May 28th

The annual club tournament has been scheduled to start on May 28th, in order that it may be finished well before the Valley Tournament. There will be as usual, open and handicap events of every kind.

In order to improve the standard of play, Mrs. A. Davidson has recently been appointed captain of the ladies' section and Mr. A. E. Hill, captain of the men's section. The captains will have as part of their duties the organizing and training of teams for inter-club matches.

There will be a mixed doubles handi-capped American tournament on May 24th, providing a sufficient number of entries are received.

Kelowna Wins Inter-Club Match With Vernon

An inter-club match between Kelowna and Vernon, played on the Kelowna course on Sunday, resulted in a somewhat one-sided win for the local team, the final total being: Kelowna, 51; Vernon, 18. The morning play was confined to nine holes, four ball, best ball, while in the afternoon 18 holes singles were played.

THE RIFLE

Sunday's shoot over the 200 and 500 yards ranges, seven shots and a sighter at each distance, resulted in some good scores, headed by that of G. Kennedy, who totalled 57 points, followed by R. Haldane with 53, and W. R. Maxson with 51.

ANGLING PROSPECTS
IN MOUNTAIN WATERS

Lakes Hold Out Lure For This Week's Holiday

Interest in fishing is now at its height. Local and district anglers are taking every opportunity to get out on the Okanagan and to try their skill on the summit lakes.

Hugh McDonald, fishing on the big pond at Okanagan Mission last week, landed two beauties weighing fourteen and seven pounds, respectively, while Jim Treadgold caught an 8-pounder opposite Stirling's wharf on the previous day. Jack Fletcher, dangling his lure from the saw-mill tug, made nice catches.

A good basket of eastern brook trout was secured at Fish Lake, near Summerland, by Mr. G. A. Britton, of Vancouver, who spent a day there.

The following lakes are recommended to anglers looking for an enjoyable outing on May 24th:

Mable Lake.—A nice spot: with good, green camping grounds at the head of the river. Joe Cass will look after you here.

Shuswap Lake.—Mr. Gillis, in charge here, guarantees that if you catch no fish you are not obliged to pay for your boat.

Adams River and Lake.—Good camping grounds, cabins and cheap (in price) accommodation.

Paul Lake.—You've heard of Echo Lodge. Good fly and bait fishing here. Penant Lake.—The "poor fisherman's paradise." Cabin and boat for $1 a day. You should get your limit.

Cariboo Lake.—The road from McCulloch to this lake has just been completed. Fishing with fly or spoon could not be better, it is reported.

Chute Lake.—Should be good; 15,000 are spawning in this creek now.

"THE VAGABOND KING"
STIRS THE BLOOD

Picturesque Portrayal Of Days Of Romance In Old France

The film adaptation of "The Vagabond King," which opens at the Empress Theatre today for the remainder of the week, is said to be so far superior in thrills and sheer beauty that there is no comparing it with the original, beautiful as the original was. Dennis King, as the master of the sword, the leader of the vagabonds, the redeemer of Paris and the captor of a Princess' heart, leaps into the very front rank of romantic actor-singers of the cinema in his gorgeous portrayal of Francois Villon, the poet-hero of "The Vagabond King." His leading lady is no other than Jeanette MacDonald, she of the rich tonal voice, who won the admiration of Kelownians in "The Love Parade."

The period of the plot is 1463, the late middle ages. Louis XI (played by O. P. Heggie) is the weakling king of France, besieged at Paris by the Burgundian army. By a quirk of fate, Villon becomes sovereign for a week. It is during this brief reign that he meets Louis' niece, the Princess Katherine (played by Miss MacDonald) and falls in love with her. By clever generalship, Villon outwits and defeats the Burgundians with the help of his faithful vagabond adherents. Paris is thus saved, but the treacherous Louis decides that Villon is too powerful and that he must be hanged. It is when the hero is about to have his life snuffed out on the gibbet that Katherine takes a part in the proceedings and saves the day in a tremendously powerful dramatic climax.

Here is a picture so bewilderingly wonderful, with its technicolor treatment throughout, its powerful stupendous sets, breath-taking action, romantic glamour and musical richness, that words cannot do it justice—it must be seen to be appreciated.

"Bulldog Drummond"

Showing Ronald Colman to his public as a comic actor of rare abilities as well as a romantic hero, "Bulldog Drummond," Samuel Goldwyn's screen version of the famous English stage melodrama of several years ago, comes to the Empress on Monday for a three-day run. This is Colman's second individual starring picture and his first chance at a comedy role since he appeared in American pictures. He is supported by a brilliant cast.

The story, built around the adventures which befell a young demobilized English officer in search of excitement after war, made one of the greatest melodramas seen in recent years on the stage. The torture lust of Dr. Lakington and the masterful criminality of his confederate, Peterson, provide a harrowing background for the love story of Bulldog Drummond's courageous devotion to Phyllis and her unfortunate uncle.

"Bulldog Drummond" presents to Kelowna audiences Ronald Colman's first talking picture.

Now, isn't it a fact that we have the most wonderful holidaying grounds in the whole world? And isn't it true that the places where we can go with little or no expense are just the sort of spots millionaires spend large sums to get to?

Axel Sanburg came down from McCulloch-Lakes this week and he reports that they are catching all they want off the rocks at Cariboo Lake, using spinners or flies. Two other boys told us they got their limits in one hour in the same lake.

Some big ones have been taken out of Okanagan Lake in the past four or five days. One man who bought one of our big
